Dear Mr. Mitchell:

Congratulations on your 10th year of service to the City of Houston. I am aware of the Bee Busy Learning Academy's mission and goals and congratulate the agency for adhering to them. As Mayor of the City of Houston, I have the opportunity to review the progress of funded organizations, their work history, goals and achievements. Your contribution to the fight against HIV/AIDS in the Houston area has not gone unnoticed.

This year, as Bee Busy Learning Academy, Inc. teams up with the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) Office on Women's Health (OWH) and Community Education Group to honor "National Women and Girls HIV/AIDS Awareness Day 2010", on Wednesday, March 10, 2010, the city of Houston is pleased to support your efforts. This year's theme, "Every 35 Minutes a Woman Tests Positive in the United States," reminds us of how serious a threat HIV/AIDS is. It takes the diligent service of agencies like Bee Busy to continue to promote and advocate awareness to the residents of Houston.

It is for this reason I support Bee Busy Inc. and its mission and acknowledge today, March 10, 2010 as National Women and Girls HIV/AIDS Awareness Day. We will continue to recognize this day until we eradicate this disease, both locally and abroad.

Sincerely,

Annise D. Parker
Mayor
